mistaken—(cheers)—and that the generous trust of the people is oven larger. If possible, than ours. We had hoped to stand by their side on the plater at the industrial Hall, as we already stand on the platform of principles, but they deem it where for the moment not to admit us. While we regret to differ from their judgment in this one matter, we acquiesce in their determination; but we know that, as we travel towards the same goal, we will very soon find ourselves on the same broad road, and I hope that before this Convention adjourns you will send them your greetings and inform them that your arms are open and that we are ready at all times to receive them, whether it be in the inclosure selected by them or on the open ground chosen by 6s. (Prolonged cheering.) The liberal vepublicans and the fiberal democrats look up to the same stars in the same sky above them, and in these stors it is written that, as there is now truth, there must also be open union between them. And now, thanking you sincerely for the patience with which you have listened to me, I wait the further pleasure of this Convention.

The Conventible then book a recess.

Afternoon Session.

The Reunion and Reform Convention reassembled at twenty minutes past three P. M., Judge Stello in the chair. The number present was about the same as at the forenoon session. A call of the States revealed the fact that only nine States are represented in the Convention.

The following Committee on Permanent Organization was appointed:—Florida, W. W. McCall; Illinois, Charles Feinse; Indiana, Henry E. Wagner; Kansar, Joseph Parr; Kentucky, Robert D. Fardon; Missouri, Henry J. Sponnarst; Ohio, Durbin Ward; Tennessee, Prank T. Reed; New York, B. Kittridge.

Tennessee, Prank T. Reed; New York, B. Kittristge.
Mr. W. W. McCall was then invited to address the Convention, having suggested that he wanted to speak when his credentals were read. He reviewed at great length the condition of affairs in the South wider carpet-bag rule, declaring that the reign of bribery, corruption and burdensome taxation had well nigh prestrated that section of the country. What was needed to restore prosperity was complete amnesty and political equality, whereby the people of the South would be enabled to constout their own affairs, and, by encouraging Northern capital and enterprise to come to the South, put the people upon their feet once more. Their Ropes of this were based upon the success of the liberal movement.

South, put the people upon their feet once more. Their Ropes of this were based upon the success of the liberal movement.

A motion was adopted that representatives from the various States hand to the Secretary the names of gentlemen authorized to act for the delegates on the Committee on Permanent Organization.

Calls were made for a Mr. Reed, of Tennessee, who, it was stated, had been a private soldier in the Confederate army. Mr. Reed expressed great interest in the success of this movement, not that it was to defeat Grant, but because he recognized that movement as the only filing which could restere fraternal feeding and loyalty to the South, without which its people could never know real material prosperity and success. He had been heart and soul in the movement, believing it to be the only thing which could save his people.

A delegate moved that this Convention declare that it has a decided choice for a candidate for the Presidency. The mover did not name a candidate, but said he was not prepared to ensorse the nominee of the other Convention, whoever he might be. Another delegate said the proposition was absurd, and at the proper time the choice of this Convention would be made known.

The Convention then adjourned until ten o'clock A. M. on Thursday.

VERMONT.

The Republican State Convention-Address of Frederick Billings on the Cincinnati Movement-The Delegates to Philadelphia.

BELLOWS FALLS, VL., May 1, 1872. The State Republican Convention to choose dele gates to the National Convention at Philadelphia was held in this place to-day. Mr. Frederick Bil-lings, of Woodstock, presided. On taking the chair he made an able speech. After returning thanks for the compliment paid him he said the republican party of Vermont was not afflicted with divisions which required the settlement of preliminary questions and render the task f a presiding officer difficult. Although this was the Presidential year, and there were conflicts and new departures and new organizations, and conwe departures and new organizations, and con-ventions to represent them, the republicans of Ver-mont, while keeping eyes on all, and praying that no evil might come from any, looked to the Conven-tion to be held in Philadelphia on the 5th of June for the authoritative expression of the principles and policy of the republicans of the hation and the selection of their candidate for the Presidential strangle.

selection of their candidate for the Presidential struggle.

He did not believe that those who met in convention at Cincinnati to-day gathered there to be satisfied with emphatic declarations of complaints against the administration and pairfolic requisitions on the Philadelphia Convention, in the hope and attempt to exert a moral influence on it, and so lift up its platform and candidates. If that was their purpose, whatever views might be entertained of the need of the convention, it would command respect. Everybody, then, might make a pilgrimage to Cincinnati. But he did not think, if there were weaknesses in the republican party, it should, for that reason, go to the wall. If remedy was needed, it lay among the republicans themselves.

that reason, go to the wall. If remety was needed, it isy among the republicans themselves. He believed the Cincinnail Convention would be powerless in the canvass unless the democracy were absorbed into its support. It could be formidable only by a union with it of all the elements opposed to the republican party. But he thought the people would not be turned away from the republican organization and be wen over to a democratic posed to the republican party. But he thought the people would not be turned away from the republican organization and be won over to a democratic alliance by great names, or oratory or glattering generalistes. Still, if the republican party was to march on to victory it behoved its supporters to march on to victory it behoved its supporters to take every stumbling block out of the way, and then not to underrate the enemy. There was an earnest cry for reform in the air. It must be heeded. The party must advecate and illustrate political morality, otherwise it could not live. Its work and character must be dearer to it than any man or set of men.

As for the offices, he did not care who filled them if right principles prevailed, and there was honest administration. In saying that he speck the scatiments of the republicans of Vermont. It was a grief and sorrow to them that personal ambitions and personal differences had crept into the party and threatened its unity. They felt that many a seed of discord had been needlessly sown, and, if they could, they would pluck up every one of them. He trusted that they would send to the Philadelphia Convention their wisest and strongeet men, charged to say that Vermont stands to the cardinal principles of the republican faith; and, charged still further, to say that Vermont stands to the republican and only asks of the Convention the exercise of the wiedom which will make the success secure.

wisdom which will make the success secure.

Resolutions reaffirming the republican doctrine and declaring Grant and Coffax to be the first choice of the State for President and Vice President were passed.

John Gregory Smith, Hornee Fairbanks, Ben-amin H. Steele and George W. Grandiy were chosen delegates at large to Philadelphia.

The message recommends stricter banking laws; exemption of savings bank deposits loaned on real estate from taxation, and raising the interest on the school fund. He deprecates taxing preminds notes of Mutual Life Companies, and advises care in the creation of town debts. In appropriations he advises close examination and prudence and to gratuities.

The message was well received.

RESIGNATION OF JUDGE ALBERT CARDOZO.

His Letter Not Received by the Assembly and His Impeachment Recommended.

Report of the Judiciary Committee.

Effort to Save Judge Barnard by Removal on Concurrent Resolution.

HIS IMPEACHMENT IS RECOMMENDED.

To Be Impeached for High Crimes and Misdemeanors.

Veto of the New York City Election Bill and the Leaf Tobacco Bill-Vanderbilt's Fourth Avenue Bill Passed by the Senate-Measures Passed and Ordered to a Third Reading.

The fact being known that the Judiciary Com mittee of the Assembly would this morning present their preliminary report upon the charges against the New York Judges, together with a resolution recommending the Impeachment of Judge Cardozo, the moment the House assembled a desperate attempt was made, first by Mr. D. B. Hill, democratic member from Cheming, and afterward by Mr. Jacobs, democratic member from Kings, to have the announcement of Judge Cardozo's resignation read to the Assembly before the Impeachment report should be presented. The proceedings attending this flank movement on the part of Judge Cardozo's friends produced a good deal of excitement. After a lively skirmish the House refused to let the document be read, and proceeded with Its regular business, and then at twelve o'clock, Mr. Prince, from the Judiciary Committee, submitted the report in the case of Judge Cardoz. The report is made the special order for to-morrow morning, immediately after the reading of the journal. The following is the communication which Mr. Hill and Mr. Jacobs vainly endeavored to present :--

New York. May 1, 1872.

To the Assembly:

I have this day caused my residuation of the office of Justice of the Saoreme Court to be filed in the office of the Secretary of State. A copy of such resignation is berewith enclosed.

ALBERT CARDOZO. the Secretary of State. A COP.
ALBERT CARDOZO.
herewith enclosed. New York Suverse Court.
Judges' Charmers, City Hall. New York, April 20, 1872.
To yirk Shenertary of State of the System of New York:
I hereby resign the office of Justice of the Suprem Court. This resignation to take effect immediately.
ARBERT CARDOZO.

Mr. Hill also received the following letter from

it is officially announced, and all that could be salid against me within or without the rules of evidence, or which by hearsay, implication or inference could be used to my prejudice, has been put on record. The investigation has been held in secret and the public have not had the opperionity to examine the testimony; but to the record I appeal for my public justification, if not now, costanily when classor and prejudice shalt have passed away and the community shall have had an eppertunity to decide dispussionately.

No man can but say that I ever gave an unjust or corrupt judgment, or that, knowingly, I ever did a wrong to all the bad not for the foregoing reasons, determined to resign, there would be an additional reason in the recent action of one branch of the Legislature. The Assembly, on the 28th first, virtually voted to containe proceedings to impeach me as a Justice of the Supreme Gourt. They thereby decided to consider what had no existence. No report of a committee nor any introduced measure looking toward impeachment had been at that time before the Assembly.

My friends insist that I must regard this vote of the Assembly as evidencing a prejudgment of any charges that might be regularly presented against me thereafter, and they say that after analyzing the vote pro and coa upon the resolution to proceed, it is what may be called a party one, and that it is evident that a political majority opposed to my party faith intend to force me at all hazards out of office.

I have not the time, means nor health to consume in vanily resisting a forcordalned partisand accrees of a large political majority.

By the respectfully, &c.

The following is to take effect from this day. Very respectfully, &c.

The Hollowing is the preliminary report of the Judiciary Committee and the resolution recozimending the impeachment of Cardozo:—

The Bodiclary Committee and the resolution recozimending the impeachment of Cardozo:—

The Judiclary Committee and the resolution of the mending the impeachment of Cardozo:—

The Janielary Committee, to which, on the 2d day of February, the "Memorial of the Bar Association of the city of New York and the memorial of Wheeler II. Peekham and others, members of the Judiciary Committee thereof, and others, praying for an investigation of the official conduct of certain Judges in the city of New York, was reterred by the following resolution:—"Hespived on motion of Mr. Alvordy, That the memorial now here presented be referred to the standing Committee and Judiciary, and that said committee make inquiry and investigation concerning the matters therein alleged as to subsess in the administration of justice in the city of New York; and such committee is authorized and anceted to conduct such inquiry and Investigation and take testimenty therein in the city of New York, and such committee is authorized and are refer to bill or otherwise, as It shall think proper, and at any time."

Respectivity report that they commenced their sittings city of New York; and such committee is authorized and directed to conduct such inquiry and investigation and take testimenty therein in the city of New York, and report by bill or otherwise, as it shall think proper, and at any time.

Respectfully report that they commenced their sittings in the city of New York for the purpose of taking testimony in regard to the subject matter of said memorial, on the 18th day of February, and that the examination of witnesses was finally closed on the 18th day of April, Darribs that period your committee devoted every available incoment to this subject, acturily sitting on thirty days, usually from the A. M. until cloven F. M., and only intermitting the investigation when it was necessary to visit Albany for short periods in order to act on the constantive accumulating wills reterred to the committee, and this accumulating wills reterred to the committee, and this was accumulated with a reterred to the committee, and this indicates which awaited their action. The beginning standing committees which one of the leading Manding committees of the House, having the greatest amount of legislative work to do, has been sent from the Capitol to another city to conduct an investigation involving such a vast amount of labor, and extending over more than one-haif of the regular session. In arranging the preliminaries of the investigation, some diversity of opinion naturally arose as to the precise nature of the inquiry with which your committee were charged by the resolution of the Assembly. One view of the subject was that their position was virtually that in a Grand Jury, which should hear the evidence adduced in support of the charges experte, and report thereon, if in horizonal by precidents were lew and none of them sufficiently and solely to the impeaciment of the presence of his own behalf, and only of which case the accumulation for the committee long with the contractic were level and none of them sufficiently and solely to the impeaciment of the experiment while horizone befo nesses on behalf of the accursed, to explain, rebut or contradict the evidence adduced against them. The necessity of avoiding delay or technical limitation in the investigation led directly to the adoption of a resolution that 'No objection or discussion by counsel be allowed as to the admissibility of evidence an either side.' Obvious considerations connected with rapidity of examination, as well as the avoidance of possible collusion between witnesses, and of annovance to those affording evidence, caused the investigation to be held with closed doors. Your committee have been thus particular in reporting their method of procedure on the investigation in the hope that their experience in this important case might be of advantage the following of the contradiction of the procedure on the investigation in the hope that their experience in this important case might be of advantage of the following the service of the contradiction in the procedure of the region of the contradiction of the present as a service of the contradiction of the present as a service of the contradiction of the present as a service of the contradiction of the present of the requirements of the contradiction of the present of the p the luages, or where the lacts proven were satisfactorily explained by subsequent testimony. Not desiring to enumber the record with unimportant or immaterial matter, such cases have been omitted from the printed testimony.

IN THE CARE OF JUSTICE CARDORO

Sixty-four witnesses were examined; in that of Justice Barnard 116, and in the case of Judge McCunn forty-two, making in all 224 witnesses, whose testimony is published as part of this our report. In addition to these about faiteen other witnesses were examined whose testimony is not printed, thus increasing the aggregate number of witnesses examined to 239. The case of Justice Cardozo, including charges and testimony, occupies set pages, that of Justice Barnard over 1,200 pages, and that of Judge McCunn 317 pages, making an aggresate of over 1,400 pages of "Assembly Document," size and style, which is equal to more than double the number of pages of a legal case.

And a long the case of the set of the set of the set of the set of the Judge. His counsel objected to the reception of such testimony, on the ground that neither the Legislature nor a court of impeachment could in any proceeding take cognizance of matters occurring perior to such date. Your committee, however, decided that, as an investigating committee, it was their duty to receive allevidence which might become material, leaving it to the House to determine as to its availability in further proceedings; and also that the scope of the resolution under which they were acting, which permitted them to report "by bill" such amendments to existing laws as might, from the developments of the investigation, appear desirable, did not allow them to limit the range of inquiry in the manner indicated. Such testimony was accordingly taken without regard to the date of the occurrences so long as it related to the edition of the case of the surface of the case of the surface of the case of the surface of the case of the surface of the co

IMPEACHMENT OF JUDGE BARNARD.

Just before the adjournment of the Assembly tomight Mr. Prince made a further partial report, consisting of recommendations in the case of Judge Barnard. It is as follows:—

In the case of George G. Barnard, a Justice of the Subreme Court, the Committee on the Judiciary, believing that the evidence adduced before them contains sufficient to make it proper that said Justice should be placed on triel before the Court of impeachment, respectfully recommend the adoption of a resolution to that effect.

Resolved, That George G. Barnard, a Justice of the Supreme Court in this State, he and he hereby is impeached for malicasance and corrupt conduct in office.

The following members of the committee dissent from the above report, so tar as it relates to the form of the resolution, and recommend the adoption of the following form of resolution for the purpose of said impeachment:—

Resolved, That George G. Barnard, a Justice of the Supreme Court in this State, be, and he hereby is, Impeached for mai and corrupt conduct in office and for high erimes and misdemeanors.

peached for mai and corrupt conduct in office and for high erimes and mistemeanors.

I. BRADFORD PRINCE. CHAS. A. FLAMMER. F. W. TOBEY.

S. J. TILDEN.

JUDGE BARNARD'S FRIENDS
have been moving heaven and earth to-day to have the recommendation in his case take the form of removal by concurrent resolution of both houses the instead of impeachment. All the members of the committee, however—though there was much difference of opinion among them as to the form of resolution—were in favor of impeachment. It is suggested that in case of removal by concurrent resolution, even if there were any guarantee that such a resolution would be adopted, it would probably be claimed that the removal was a party measure to legislate a democrat out of office, and strenuous efforts would be made to have Barnard reclected.

The Governor's veto of the New York City Registry ball, sent in to the Senate to-day, was expected, and so created no surprise. The ball was drawn up expressly to conform to the peculiarities of the Seventy's charter, now dead and buried, and of course was rendered utterly of no account by the veto which has made the Committee of Seventy go into mourning. It is hardly possible that any new bill on this subject will be passed this session.

ANOTHER VETO.

The Governor has vetoed the bill regulating the sale of leaf tobacco in the city of New York, on the ground that if made law it would result in great damage to a very large and legitimate business.

A POINT FOR A JEWELL.

The President of the Westchester Transit Committee, in a memorial to the Senate which was pientfully scattered about in the chamber to-day, "goes for" Governor Jewell in lively style for having presumed to take up the endgels for the opponents of the New Haven Raiiroad Fare bill, now under consideration. The passage of the bill is doubtful. His friends are strong, but its opponents are stronger, and have greater resources to fall back upon.

That ough friends are strong but its opponents are stronger, and have greater resources to fall back upon io the Governor for his signature. The vote was is to 7, Benedict, Lewis and Winslow not voting. Among the HILLS PASSED BY THE ASSEMBLY fo-day was the act incorporating the New York Soldiers' Heme and the bill providing that the New York and Brooklyn Iron Tubular Tunnel Company shall have two years after the passage of the act within which to commence the tunnel under the East River and seven years to complete the work. A bill was also passed appointing Horatio Seymour, Patrick H. Agan. Whilam B. Taylor, George H. Raynor and Franklyn E. Hough a commission to inquire into and report to the next Legislature the expediency of the State acquiring tile to the timbered lands in the Adirondack region for the purpose of preserving them as a park. The object is mainly to preserve pure the sources of the streams which farnish the drinking water of a large portion of the population of this section of the State.

The Funkal of Cornelius 8, underwood, late Clerk of the Assembly, who died yesterday, took place this afternoon. In the House to-day Mr. Edward M. Johnson, of Steuben county, Deputy Cierk, was unanimously elected Clerk in place of Mr. Underwood. The Assembly this evening took up the new new Congressional apportionment Bill, and after some discussion in Committee of the Whole on the proposed redistricting in the First district, to which several members took exception, progress was reported. Mr. Alvord said he was satisfied that at this stage of its proceedings this Legislature would not be able to arrive at a satisfactory solution of this question of redistricting the State. Later in the evening, in the House, the previous question was moved by Mr. I. D. Brown, and the bill was ordered to a third reading. A motion to recommit it to the commistee, with instructions to insert certain amendments, was made and afterward withdrawn. After a long discussion, the bill establishing the compensation of County Judges and Surrogates was also ordered to a third reading.

The Senate this evening ordered the following bills to a third reading:—The New Haven Fare bill, the Gilbert Elevated Railroad, the Poughkeepsie Bridge and the West Shore Railroad bills. The Gilbert Elevated Railroad bill was amended in Committee of the Whole so that the Common Council can pull it down at any time they come to the conclusion that it is a public nuisance.
